

THIRD CHANGE IS ORDERED IN LEVIES

Rates for Tuition Funds in Hamilton and Redding Townships Boosted for The Second Time.

NOTICE IS SENT TO AUDITOR

Work of Completing Tax Duplicates in Different Units in County is Again Delayed.

Additional increases in school levies in several townships in this county have been made by the state tax board, according to official notice received this morning by Albert Luedtke, county auditor. The notice came as a surprise as the county officials had reason to believe that all changes had been made and had started work on the preparation of the tax duplicates in the various corporations.

The last increases are as follows: Tuition fund in Crothersville increased from 35c to 36c.

Tuition fund in Pershing township increased from 33c to 25c.

Tuition fund in Salt Creek township increased from 33c to 42c.

Tuition fund in Owen township increased from 30c to 37c.

Tuition fund in Grassy Fork township increased from 30c to 37c. Special fund in Grassy Fork also boosted from 10c to 30c.

Tuition fund in Redding township increased from 15c to 22c.

Tuition fund in Hamilton township increased from 16c to 21c.

Tuition fund in Carr township, including Medora, increased from 29c to 36c.

Special school fund in the town of Brownstown increased from 35c to 55c.

Several days ago a number of new levies most of which were in the tuition funds were made by the state board. Some of those included in the last notice are the second modifications that have been ordered.

Chauncey Lautzenheiser, deputy auditor, stated this afternoon that no further attempt would be made to make up the tax duplicates until the first of next week so that the board would have additional time to give notice of any other changes that are to be made. Already two attempts have been made to start the new duplicates and each time the levies have been changed by the board which necessitated a duplication of the work. It is likely that the deputy auditor will start work for the second time on the Seymour tax duplicate about Tuesday. Officials say that they believe that the levies will now stand and would be greatly surprised if any further changes were ordered.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSING ANOTHER RISE OF RIVER

Reports From Rockford State That White River is Rising Three Inches an Hour.

The heavy, and almost continuous rains during the last twenty-four hours have caused another rise in the rivers and streams in this locality. White River at Rockford was rising three inches an hour this afternoon and had reached an eight foot stage which was recorded the first of this week following the heavy downpour Sunday and Monday. The Muscatatuck and other creeks in the county were rising.

It is said that there is greater danger of an overflow now than at the first of the week as the rivers and streams were very low at that time. The streams are now almost bank full and in some places the water is running over the low banks. Several inches more of rainfall will result in flood conditions, it is stated, and high water now would be costly as practically none of the corn has been moved from the bottoms.

TOLEDO ENGINEER VIEWS SITUATION

Sewer Committee Holds Important Meeting At City Building Thursday Evening.

OHIO FIRM MAKES PROPOSITION

Agrees to Furnish Data, Plans and Specifications for $1200—Second Meeting Held.

W. D. Sherman, president of the W. S. Sherman Co., a civil engineering firm, of Toledo, O., spent Thursday in the city going over the proposed sewer proposition in Seymour. Mr. Sherman made a trip over the city with members of the sewer committee, which is composed of the city mayor, city engineer, three members of the city council and five members of the Chamber of Commerce, looking over the situation.

The Toledo engineer met with the sewer committee at the city building Thursday evening at which time he submitted a verbal proposition for supplying the city with drawings and plans for a system in this city. He agreed to prepare all plans and data for a complete sewerage system up to letting the contract for the sum of $1200. However, he stated that he would cut the amount to $600 if the city would employ a local engineer to do the field work.

The civil engineer left for Toledo today and will prepare his agreement in writing and forward it to the local committee within the next few days. The members of the sewer committee received much valuable information as a result of Mr. Sherman's visit.

STRIKE ALREADY UNDER WAY IN EASTERN OHIO

1,500 Miners Lay Down Tools in Various Mines Throughout This Section.

By United Press
St. Clairsville, Ohio, October 31—The coal strike is already under way in eastern Ohio. Early today 1,500 miners lay down their tools in various mines throughout this section.

Union workers in the balance of the section are reported steadily joining the list of idlers and before 4 p. m. which the executives here designated as "zero hour," all mines were expected to be closed down. Union leaders claimed 15,000 men would be out before night.

EACH CENT OF LEVY IN CITY NETS $750

Approximately $150,100 Will Be Raised in Seymour Under Tax Rate of $2.02.

OHIO FIRM MAKES PROPOSITION

Agrees to Furnish Data, Plans and Specifications for $1200—Second Meeting Held.

One cent increase or decrease in a tax levy does not appear to be an important change and is not so far as the average property owner is concerned, yet in the aggregate it amounts to a considerable sum. In Seymour, for instance, each cent of the tax levy produces in round figures $750 and by multiplying this by the rate of $2.02 it is found that approximately $150,100 will be raised for all purposes in this city in 1920.

City officials who have been giving some attention to the tax levy declare that the amount of money that will be raised under the levy of $2.02 on a total appraisal of $7,432,240 will be slightly above that which was available last year. The increase comes in the funds that the public schools will have to expend and was granted by the state tax board in view of the increased expenses arising from the minimum teachers' salary law enacted by the last state legislature.

Under the new levy the city will raise about $40,000 for the general fund. This is what was netted this year. When the city council passed the appropriation ordinance for 1920 a total of $41,000 was distributed from the general fund, but it is stated that by strict economy about $1,000 can be saved so that the amount available next year ought to be sufficient to meet all requirements.

The council fixed the city levy for all purposes at sixty-eight cents on the hundred dollars, just half of what it was this year. The state

GOVERNMENT IS READY FOR ACTION

Troop Movements As Carefully Guarded as During Period of The War.

OHIO FIRM MAKES PROPOSITION

Agrees to Furnish Data, Plans and Specifications for $1200—Second Meeting Held.

By United Press
Washington, Oct. 31—Approach of the zero hour in the threatened strike of more than 400,000 coal miners—midnight tonight—found the government secretly moving troops to strategic points in the affected area, while steps were taken to enjoin union leaders from directing the proposed walkout.

The troop movements were as carefully guarded as during the war. Government officials believed that nothing can stop thousands of miners from quitting work at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow and every precaution was being taken to prevent the mining region from being the scenes of civil strife.

Plans are complete to control the distribution of fuel and priorities have been established. The railroad administration is ready to allocate cars and put such coal as will be mined in places where it is most needed. Agencies of the old fuel administration, absorbed by the department of the interior, are ready to function. The department of justice will enforce the president's price proclamation.

"The fuel administration will take whatever steps are necessary to carry out the government's program," said Attorney General Palmer, in pointing out that Harry A. Garfield is still fuel administrator and retains his war-time powers.

Palmer late yesterday conferred with President Wilson, discussing the strike in detail. The president, it was stated, approved the action of his cabinet and offered several suggestions.

Although Wilson is still kept in bed, he is in constant touch with all developments in the impending strike, receiving and sending communications.

Agents of the department of justice are scattered throughout the coal fields, seeking agitators who are alleged to have planned to seize control of the strikers and turn the walkout into an uprising against the government.

Gen. Pershing is in Washington today. There was no hint in any responsible quarter that his presence here had anything to do with troop movements. It was said he was in the capital merely to give congress his advice as to a peace-time military structure.

By United Press
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 31—The strike of bituminous coal miners of the nation will start at midnight tonight.

Five hundred thousand men, according to estimate made at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America here, will lay down their tools in open defiance of requests of highest officials of the United States and state governments. The men demand a six hour day; a five day week and a sixty per cent increase in wages.

Their employers, coal mine operators, contend they have an agreement with the miners which will extend until peace is formally declared. The exact words of the contract are that it shall "remain in force for the duration of the war."

Miners contend the contract was terminated when the armistice was signed.

If the strike continues for three weeks, industrial activities will be brought to a stop. Railroads will not be able to continue operation other public utilities will be tied up and every industry in the country will be brought to a standstill.

More than half of the coal miners of the country are paid up members in the miners union. Officials of the

AGENTS OF BROTHERHOODS MEET ATTORNEY GENERAL

Railroad Men, It Is Said, Make Objection to Issuance of Federal Injunction.

By United Press
Washington, October 31—Twelve railroad brotherhood heads conferred with Attorney General Palmer today soon after report of the issuance of an injunction against the coal strike reached here.

It was understood that the railroad men desired to lay a protest against the action before Palmer and to tell him that it might be impossible to hold railroad men from striking if the government went ahead with the injunction.

W. G. Lee, head of the railway trainmen, and L. E. Sheppard, head of the railroad conductors, were the two railroad union heads who did not attend the meeting at Palmer's office. Lee said he understood the meeting had some connection with the miners' strike and added:

"I do not interfere with other people's business until I am asked to."

He said he had received no request to take any part in the miners' strike. Lee and Sheppard's organizations have demanded before the railroad administration and are awaiting an answer to them.

ACTION IS TAKEN IN FEDERAL COURT

Head of Mine Workers Declares Walkout Will Take Place Tonight Despite Court Action.

STATEMENT BY JOHN L. LEWIS

Declares Injunction Only Complicates Problems Involved in Adjustment of Controversy.

By United Press
Indianapolis, October 31—The strike of bituminous coal miners of the nation will start at midnight tonight in defiance of a restraining order issued by Judge A. B. Anderson, in United States district court today.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared:

"This instrument will not avert the strike of bituminous mine workers and will not settle the strike after it occurs. The injunction only complicates to a further degree the problems involved in adjustment of the controversy."

Lewis declared he regarded issuance of this order as the most "sweeping abrogation of the rights of citizens granted under the constitution and defined by statutory law that has ever been issued by any federal court."

The statement of the head of the mine workers' union was issued half an hour after he had been served notice by U. S. deputy marshals of the court action.

Lewis after a short session with the executive board, announced he would make an oral statement. He dictated it slowly and with great deliberation. The restraining order issued by the court is so comprehensive as to even prevent individual miners from conversing orally regarding the strike, it was unofficially interpreted by the United States district attorney's office here.

It prevents all union officials and "any other persons whatsoever" from taking any further steps towards carrying on the strike.

The order was issued at the request of C. B. Ames, assistant attorney general. It was based on two war time acts of congress.

First—The Lever act which prevents restriction of the supply of food or fuel during the war.

Second—The act under which the United States government took over control of the railroads.

CONGRESS IS SOLIDLY SUPPORTING CONGRESS

Both House and Senate Adopt Measures Pledging Support in Protecting Public.

By United Press
Washington, October 31—Backed by the solid support of congress the federal government waited this afternoon for the miners to make the first move in their strike schedule for tonight. Following were the outstanding developments of the day in Washington:

Extension for six months after the proclamation of peace of the Lever food and fuel control act under which the government plans to take action necessary to insure a supply of coal was asked of congress by Attorney General Palmer.

The house of representatives by a vote of 266 to 0 pledged its support to the government in an effort to protect the public's interests in the impending strike.

The senate took this action by passing the Thomas resolution yesterday. It assures the president of the "constant, continuous and unqualified support of congress."

RURAL SERVICE IS NOT PROFITABLE

Representatives of Electric and Power Plants so Declare at Conference.

STATISTICS ARE PRESENTED

Data To Be Forwarded to Commission to Be Used for Rate Making Purposes.

Indianapolis, October 31—Representatives of electric and power plants attending a conference held by the Public Service Commission Wednesday were divided in their views as to the advisability of a general extension of their service to rural communities. Statistics presented by several of the plant operators on experiments on rural service lines indicated that the cost of providing current to farmers was so high that the rural service could not be made a profitable business.

As a result of the conference a committee was appointed by Glenn VanAuken, commissioner presiding at the conference, to work out a blank form for the use of electric companies in compiling specific data on the loss of electric current at the transformers and in the transmission to rural consumers. This data is to be forwarded to the commission and will be of use in establishing the proper rates for rural service.

H. O. Garman, chief engineer of the commission, was named as chairman, and the other members of the committee are Sam Mott, general manager of the Noblesville Heat, Light and Power Company, represented the private electric utilities, and H. E. Hayworth, superintendent of the Crawfordsville Electric and Power Company, representing the municipally owned plants.

A special committee appointed at the conference to consider proposed Rule 31 of the standards of electric service, recommended that the rule be changed to provide that all rural lines be owned by the utilities providing the current and that free extensions of service be made only when the revenue from the new consumers would in two years equal the cost of the extension. H. C. Eddy of New York, representing the Breed interests of Muncie, Marion and Elwood, said that the matter of making extensions at this time was a grave financial problem for the utilities. He pointed out that there is so much competition in unloading blocks of securities on the market that the interest rates are boosted to such an extent that the utilities can't pay the price on the prevailing market.

E. I. Lewis, chairman of the commission, said many of the farmers' electric lines are being built by groups of farmers who purchase the current from nearby cities and towns. He said that he believed that all such companies should be forced to incorporate so that liability could be placed.

Representatives of municipal plants were generally in favor of rural extensions. Commissioner John W. McCordle, answering those who objected to rural extensions, declared that he could see no reason for not giving the service if the farmers were willing to pay the price.

Alex Holiday, chairman of a committee of the Indiana Light Association, presented to the conference the committee's recommendations as a general policy for rural consumers. These recommendations provided that rural customers are entitled to service but that the rates should be higher than in the cities.

It was also recommended that in order to obtain safety and uniformity central stations may acquire existing lines and may own future lines. The practice of central stations of financing rural extensions through customers furnishing money or buying securities at par is approved, the recommendations said.

How About Your Glasses?

Don't you think that because they cause you no trouble they can't be improved upon.

As you grow older your eyes change. They should be thoroughly examined at least once in two years.

It is my business to examine eyes and advise if glasses are needed or if those you now wear are right, rather than to just sell glasses. I do not charge any more than you must pay elsewhere for competent service and dependable glasses.

ATTRACTION ON THE STREETS TONIGHT

Hundreds of People In Queer Costumes Expected in The Downtown District this Evening.

SEVERAL PARTIES PLANNED

Extra Police Will Patrol City to Prevent Damage and Destruction of Property.

The Hallowe'en season will reach its climax tonight and it is predicted that hundreds of local boys and girls together with many of the older ones will take part in the annual festivities. Throughout the week numerous parties in keeping with the Hallowe'en spirit have been held and several are scheduled for tonight.

Stores here which sell masquerade costumes had many calls for attire for the masked parties and indications go to show that one of the largest crowds that ever took part in a similar affair will be out tonight. It is expected that individuals in queer looking costumes will begin to appear on the streets at dusk this evening and the fun will continue until late tonight.

C. W. Burkart, city mayor, stated that it was the administration's desire that persons taking part in the Hallowe'en have as good time as possible. However, the destruction of property, throwing flour or corn or any like substances will not be tolerated and persons doing so will be prosecuted.

In the years past much vandalism was done during the Hallowe'en period but for the past several years Seymour has been very quiet and indications are that there will be nothing to report to the police headquarters. Extra police will patrol the city to see that property is not damaged and to arrest anyone attempting to violate the laws it was announced at the police station today.

Aside from those who appear in costumes it is predicted that many people will be on the streets tonight to take part in the festivities. The theatres are offering extra programs and it is expected that they will be visited by hundreds of masked people.

man's visit here. He went over the situation very carefully Thursday afternoon and posted himself on just what would be necessary to make a complete sewerage system in Seymour.

The meeting last night was the second held by the sewer committee with an outside engineer a similar one having been held several days ago with a representative of a Cleveland firm. The committee has been accumulating some valuable data on the proposition during the past few weeks and much has been accomplished already toward the proposed modern sewerage system. It is expected that other engineering firms will have representatives here during the next few weeks.

"Mother" Williams Avers.

Elwood, Ind., Oct. 30—Hundreds of Elwood residents know and like Mrs. Ella Williams, more popularly known as "Mother" Williams, and many were unusually interested in what she has to say of Trutona, the perfect tonic.

"For quite a while I've suffered from indigestion and liver troubles," Mrs. Williams said. "Invariably after eating I would become bloated and would belch annoyingly and experience a sour taste in my mouth. I often had severe pains in my sides, too. I didn't sleep well at night, either.

"The formerly severe pains in my sides bother me but very little, since I've taken Trutona and I've been relieved of the bloating, belching and sour taste in my mouth which used to follow my meals. And I can sleep soundly at night now, too. My appetite has improved, also, seems as though the food taste better now. Trutona has helped me and I'm satisfied it is the medicine for ailments such as mine."

Hundreds of Indiana men and women who for years have been slaves to indigestion have found relief in Trutona. The perfect tonic goes direct to the seat of this trouble, and seldom fails to give the desired results.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

NEW BUDGET SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED AT MEETING

District Meeting of Indiana Christian Missionary Society Held In This City Today.

The meeting of the southeastern district of the Indiana Christian Missionary Society held at the Central Christian church in this city today was largely attended many delegates from the churches in the several counties that comprise the district being present.

The meeting opened at 9 o'clock this morning. Among those who spoke at the session were Frederick W. Burnham, of Cincinnati, C. W. Cauble, state secretary, Fred R. Davies, district evangelist, and Mrs. Stearns, secretary of the Women's Missionary Society. The new budget system to be used during the coming year was explained at this morning's session.

F. E. Smith, of Indianapolis, field representative of the Ministers Welfare Association spoke at the session this afternoon. Short talks were also made by several other prominent church workers from over the district. The meeting adjourned at 3 o'clock this afternoon in order that those who came from a distance would have an opportunity to get home tonight.

Mrs. Wright Payne spent today in North Vernon.

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

Ithaca, N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERMILLA HULSIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N.Y.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CANVASS MADE IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Stores Enrolling All of Their Employees Presented with "One Hundred Per Cent. Strong" Banners.

THREE TOWNSHIPS ORGANIZED

Women Appointed at Meeting Thursday Night to Take Charge of Campaign in City.

A group of business men canvassed the business section today in the interest of the Third Red Cross Roll Call. The canvass was made by Francis Gates, George Huber, John Klein, Nathan Kaufman, Earl Cox, Albert Meseke and Frank H. Gates. C. E. Morton was appointed Red Cross representative for the Baltimore & Ohio office force. Wherever a business house was enrolled all of its employees in the Red Cross organization a banner reading "One Hundred Per Cent. Strong" was presented. J. H. More, county manager of the Third Red Cross campaign, accompanied by W. C. Humbert and Jean DeGennes, motored to Brownstown, Vallonia and Medora Thursday afternoon perfecting the Red Cross organizations in Brownstown, Driftwood and Carr townships. Mrs. Nera Homles is chairman of Carr township and will be assisted in the work by Mrs. J. D. Clapp, of Sparksville, and Mrs. O. O. Shortridge, of Medora. Miss Nellie Peters will take charge of the campaign at Vallonia and H. D. Aldredge, cashier of the Vallonia state bank, will supervise the work in Driftwood township. The Wide Awake club at Brownstown will conduct the campaign there.

At a meeting held at the Shields high school building Thursday night Mr. More outlined the plans for Jackson township and distributed supplies to the women in charge of the various districts. Mrs. Albert Ahlbrand will have charge in the southwest section of the city. Mrs. Lem Day and Mrs. Charles Kessler will conduct the campaign in the southeast part. Mrs. J. H. Andrews and Miss Ethel Rottman will have charge of the work in the northwest district and Mrs. Jack Shiel and Mrs. Charles Wolters will serve in the northeast section and Mrs. LeRoy Miller will conduct the campaign in district No. 6.

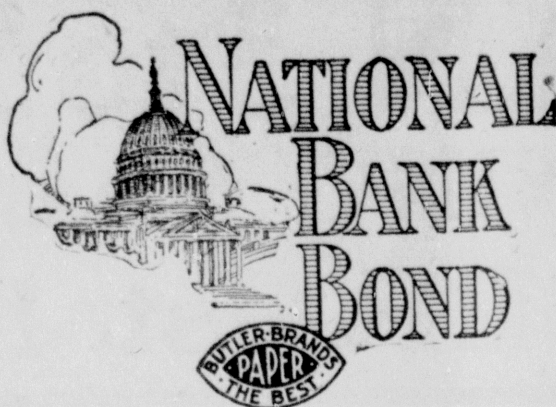

It is hoped by the campaign manager that most of the canvass will be completed on Sunday but on account of the delay due to inclement weather and the necessity of re-organization, the final reports may not be available until after the last day of the campaign, Tuesday, November 11, which will be celebrated as Armistice day.

The ministers of the city and county have been asked to give extended notice to the Third Red Cross roll call and emphasize the home service work of the organization which will be stressed during the coming year. Tomorrow an extended statement will be made by Mr. More relative to the work the Red Cross is planning to do under the department of the home service. Fifty cents out of every dollar will be available for service in Jackson county. It is the desire of the board of directors that every possible membership be secured in order that this very important county work may be carried on without further financial appeal. J. H. More announced late this afternoon that the Baltimore & Ohio office force was the first to report over the top in the campaign. C. E. Morton, who had charge of the work there having reported that all of the employees had made application for membership to the Red Cross organization.

NO DEATHS ON BALTIMORE & OHIO DURING CAMPAIGN

Drive to Prevent Accidents Which Has Been on For Several Days Will End This Evening.

The drive for the prevention of accidents which was started by all railroads throughout the United States two weeks has been very successful according to officials of the Baltimore & Ohio. Only two slight accidents have occurred throughout the Baltimore & Ohio system since the drive has been waged. One employee in an eastern shop lost a finger and one man was injured while working in a roundhouse. No deaths from accident occurred during the period that the campaign was waged. Much benefit has been derived from the campaign and it has had a tendency to teach the men that accidents can be avoided.

GOOD CHEER CIRCLE.

About thirty members of the Good Cheer Circle of the First Baptist church, enjoyed a progressive Halloween party Thursday evening. The first home visited was that of Mrs. Jay C. Smith, 216 North Walnut street, which was artistically decorated with Halloween decorations, consisting of black and orange crepe paper and jack-o'-lanterns. Crepe paper streamers were festooned from the chandeliers and faces of crepe paper were arranged in the fire places. The first course of the luncheon was served here, which was composed of fruit salad in orange cups and cake. In the cake were hidden a key, dime, ring and thimble, and the fortunes of the guests were told with these. The party then progressed to the home of Miss Pearl Day, on West Laurel street. The house was decorated with black and orange crepe paper and jack-o'-lanterns. The time was spent here with music and the second course of the luncheon was served.

The third home visited was that of Miss Marie Brookhof, 134 South Bill street, which was decorated with corn stalks, and leaves to represent a witches' cave. Fortunes were told here and refreshments of baked beans, pickles and wafers were served.

MURDOCK—MONTGOMERY.

Among the important nuptial events of this month was the wedding of Miss Helen Murdock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Murdock, and T. Harlan Montgomery, son of Judge and Mrs. Oscar H. Montgomery, of this city, which took place at the home of the bride's parents on South Maple Avenue, Greensburg, Pa., Wednesday afternoon at six o'clock. The double ring ceremony was used and the Rev. Charles Schall, pastor of the Greensburg First Presbyterian church, officiated at the wedding rites. Ellen Starr Steel held the bride's bouquet during the ceremony. Only the relatives and a few close friends of the bride and groom witnessed the impressive ceremony. The house decorations of cut flowers and greenery were exceptionally beautiful.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white Duchess satin and georgette trimmed with rose point lace.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the Greensburg country club, covers being laid for forty-six guests.

Mrs. Montgomery, who has visited here several times, is a very charming young lady. She is a graduate of Wilson College. Mr. Montgomery, who is the deputy prosecuting attorney in Jackson county, is a successful young lawyer and a member of the law firm of Montgomery and Montgomery. He enlisted in the first officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison and served throughout the war as First Lieutenant. He spent several months overseas, receiving his discharge several months ago, after which he returned to this city and resumed his profession.

C. B. DAVIS HOME FROM SECRETARIES' MEETING

Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Attends Interesting Sessions at Indianapolis.

Clark B. Davis, secretary of the chamber of commerce, returned last night from Indianapolis where he attended a meeting of the National Association of Commercial Secretaries and also a convention of the State Commercial Secretaries Association. The latter convention was held yesterday while the national association held its meeting the first part of the week, closing Wednesday night.

Thirty-seven states were represented at the national convention. Over three hundred secretaries were in attendance and an interesting program which dealt with many subjects were presented. C. N. Melne, of Muncie, was elected a director of the association, and was the only Indiana man to receive an office. Emphasis was laid on the fact that commercial organizations now must deal with many subjects which were not brought before them a few years ago.

Development of rural district along with cities was given attention at both the national and state meetings. Carl Pear, of the community development bureau, spoke at the state meeting, relative to the development of the rural districts and the relations between urban and rural centers. The state meeting was given over very largely to a discussion of problems of particular interest to Indiana secretaries.

MANY YEARS AGO

a feeble candle flame in a rough little window could speak volumes of warmth and rugged comfort to the wayfarer. Now, visible through prettily curtained windows in most homes, a rich appearing floor lamp tells a story of more modern tendency.

Many years ago, a candle on a mantle or crude shelf within a homely cabin meant a feeble glow of gladness for the sturdy home-steaders within the flickering circle. Now, what great contrast is offered by the radiant floor-lamp. Its gay light diffused by multi-colored shade of beauteous silk, sheds a softening influence on the modern family, and it symbolizes all of comfort, warmth and convenience that has come since those early days.

The home without a floor-lamp is devoid of one of the greatest and best true home-influences available to the average family. Our stock is wide. The price range is interestingly reasonable.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief To Rose and Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make It Yourself At Home At Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing hay fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time hay fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been presented upon to dispense it through pharmacists to all hay fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get a one ounce bottle of Mentholized Arlene at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work; but oftentimes simple natural remedies are the best as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

members of the Alpha Class of the First Methodist church, taught by Mrs. O. S. Guernsey. The guests were met at the door by a ghost and ushered into the house, which was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves, jack o'lanterns and streamers of yellow and black crepe paper.

During the evening a program consisting of recitations and songs.
The time was spent with games and contests, one contest which caused much amusement was the guessing of the masked guests. A luncheon was served during the evening.

The class has an enrolled membership of more than one hundred, and fifty-five attended the meeting
Thursday evening.

He asked breathlessly, "And zat is—?"

"Go straight to the president and lay the whole case before him."

Monsieur looked as if he'd fall in a faint at my feet.

"Ze president—mon Dieu!" He used his handkerchief over his face. "Madame—in pity—out of ze kindness of your so kind heart—I srow myself on your mercy—I, De Ravenol—and I ask you to help me in ze recovery of zoe diamonds in secret. I ask it for ze sake of Claire. I ask on my knee."

And the man was actually preparing to do it, too! But I, not being used to that sort of demonstration and seeing

It as anything but a compliment that he felt he had to go such lengths to propitiate me—for I like to think myself at least decently approachable on common humane grounds—responded to his near-kneel with a peremptory, "Don't do it!" and a look and gesture that showed him he could save the histrionics. "How can I help you?" I questioned.

"It is a case for—diplomacy—in dealing wiz ze lady; and I ask—as a the lights. "I've got everything all my own way now and nothing is going to happen tonight—that's one thing to be thankful for." And with these and similar fatuous maunderings and self-congratulations I tumbled into bed without even bothering to lock the kitchen door.

So great favor—zat you see Madame Delario and discover ze truse from her, if she have find ze little box—and persuade her to her duty to return it."

The net result of the remainder of the interview was that monsieur promised to relieve both Mrs. Delario and me of all espionage immediately—dismiss his solitary detective who was shadowing me—bring Claire to the house the next evening for a full confession of her part of the smuggling; while I promised to see Mrs. Delario the first thing in the morning and use all my influence with her.

"I think that is all—this evening," said I sweetly, giving him the hint to go.

I at once got Billy's coat and hat from my wardrobe, where they were hidden, and coming through the hall I managed to signal him to go along with monsieur.

They left together—apparently on the best of terms.

"Tomorrow I'll decide about going to the president," thought I, turning out

To this day I've never quite recovered from the astonishment and chagrin when on waking up in the morning I reviewed the case with a refreshed mind and realized with what ease De Ravenol had imprisoned both Mrs. Delario and me in our own homes and had us quaking in our boots in fear of our very lives!

Monsieur had managed Mrs. Delario even better than he had me—he had merely left a detective in her house to watch her by day and lock her up by night. In fact, she'd actually invited the detective in proof of her innocence; for when monsieur had accused her of stealing jewels she saw in her mind's eye—just as I did—trinkets, jewelry; and the idea that he was referring to seven uncut diamonds caged in her slipper never entered her head.

"You have accused me of a shocking crime—a crime that offends every principle of decency as well as morals," she told him with spirit, "and I now insist that you convince yourself of my innocence before you leave the house. Here is the key to my bedroom—here is the passkey to all the other rooms. Have your man watch me while you examine everything—everything—and then you must get a woman to search me."

This unsolicited action, her flat denial and his finding the slipper where she'd carelessly dropped it in her wardrobe threw the scent on me. In two hours monsieur convinced himself that she did not have the diamonds and knew nothing about them, and he then requested her—as the proof of her noncomplicity—to let him lock her in her room and send for me! And she didn't dare to refuse!

And there you have, simple as simple could be, the whole of it. I had her side of the story when I saw her Sunday morning as monsieur's messenger. But I had enough of the story before I went to her to feel pretty well chagrined; yet sad, too, as I thought of the disappointment I had in store for her when I told her that Emperor William owned her "find" and how the diamonds came to be in her slipper.

I confess I didn't like very much the way she'd lied to me about the uncle abroad who had left them to her. Still—it was an understandable lie: since she'd found the diamonds and didn't know who owned them she felt they belonged to her as much as if they'd been left her in a will.

Mrs. Delario herself admitted me; gave a gasp when she saw who it was, and whirled me into the seance room and locked the door on us before we exchanged a syllable.

We sank into chairs. I felt as if a tidal wave had swept from under me and left me not even hanging up in a coconut tree but sitting still in peaceful security. It was she who got us down from the high peaks to the levels where conversation can go afoot without falling off, by asking, "And how are you—after it all?" to which I replied, "But how are you—after it all?" and we both laughed.

Her laugh died away into an indignant frown. "You never heard anything like it," she cried. "He came here with a detective—and it wasn't five minutes after you got out of the house, Monday—and accused me—me!—of stealing Claire's bracelets!" "Bracelets?" I echoed.

"Yes—me."

I said "Oh," slowly. I hadn't expected she'd grind the word jewels quite so fine.

"Did you ever hear anything quite so outrageous?" she rushed on. "To come here and say I robbed his child of jewelry! I don't believe she had any jewelry, anyway—it was all a trumped-up story to get something out of me; but I was so indignant—" and she poured out the whole tale.

"Well, it's all over," she concluded. "I didn't care how much monsieur searched—I knew I hadn't robbed Claire, and I knew that so long as you had my diamonds they were safe. I didn't worry after the first day or so."

She said "my diamonds," and now I had to tell her!

"Mrs. Delario there seems to be a misunderstanding about those diamonds," I began suavely.

She gave a start and asked, "How, misunderstanding? You mean they're not worth all you said? Well—you didn't tell me positively they were worth—that." She seemed to hesitate at "a million dollars," which is what I said.

"Oh, yes—I still stick to that—that's the worst of it: they are worth it—that's what made them shining targets for that thief."

"Thief!" she cried. "You say 'thief,' too! Then he was, after all!" She was very much excited, and repeated the word several times with a kind of joy and ran on rapidly: "I wouldn't tell you what I thought about him, but I knew he was a thief. I knew it in Paris—I knew it in Antwerp—it was in Antwerp—after I'd made all the arrangements to bring Claire over—that I heard it clairaudiently, 'De Ravenol is a thief.' I knew it here—in this very room—the first time he came." And then she smiled at me benignantly: "And thanks to you he didn't get my diamonds, so we're safe—Claire's safe—she'll never know the truth about her father from me."

"Claire never had any jewelry—the whole accusation was trumped up to get the chance to rob me. But how under the sun did he know I had those diamonds?"

"He says he put them there—or at least Claire did—in your slipper," I blurted.

Her hands flew to her heart. "Never!" she cried. "Never in the world!"

"And he says they're his," I persisted, feeling I'd got my opening at last. I put it that way partly to disabuse her mind of the idea that monsieur was a thief; partly to save her from the too sudden shock of the Emperor William. I saw I'd have to let her down gradually.

"They're mine," she returned vehemently. "I swore to you they were mine. I swear to you again—now—here—in the sight of God—they are mine. Consider—" her tone was all appeal now, "if they had not been mine—if I had stolen them from Claire—would I have shown them to you? Would I have asked you to help me dispose of them?"

I was forced to admit, "No—of course not"—I had already taken that into consideration.

"Yes—I grant you that you honestly believe they're yours," I admitted.

For After Effects of the "FLU" and Other Weakening Diseases

If you are weak, dizzy, tired and nervous from the "after effects" of enervating diseases, the tonic, strength renewing REOLO Treatment will restore your strength—revitalize the exhausted blood, eliminate the toxic poisons—tone up the heart and nervous system and give renewed vigor, vitality, strength and energy.

Pain, headache, backache, nervousness, dizziness, anaemia, dyspepsia, biliousness, congestion, constipation, etc., are but Nature's warning signals that the blood is full of deadly germs or that the cells of some part of your body are starving for their natural food—just as a plant droops and dies for lack of water.

Any tissue of the body deprived of oxygen dies at once. The life of each individual cell is brief and without oxygen no new cells can be built; neither can they without the necessary cell salts.

The cells are not fed. They feed themselves but do not feed blindly upon every substance that comes their way. They know how to choose the particles they wish to absorb. Nothing foreign to their constituent parts can be forced upon them except to produce injury or death.

REOLO

Restores Vigor and Vitality

eliminates the toxic poisons, rapidly increases the red blood cells—revitalizes the blood with life-giving oxygen—and restores strength and energy. It tones up the heart action and nervous system—stimulates the digestion, and assimilation—renews the exhausted cells. REOLO makes the weakness and dizziness that are so frequently the after effects of the "Flu" and other enervating diseases disappear as shadows vanish before the sunshine.

Oxygen is the life-giver—necessary to maintain life. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly oxidizing or revitalizing the red blood cells—and increasing the amount of hemoglobin in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell, of the nerves, tissues, brain and bones.

By special arrangement with the Dr. A. L. Reusing Laboratories, Akron, Ohio, we have been appointed Licensees for the distribution of "REOLO" direct from the Laboratories, each package certified by Dr. A. L. Reusing and positively guaranteed to give satisfactory results or we will gladly refund your money. Large box of "REOLO", (100 tablets) price $1.00

"But what I've got to know is, how they came to be yours."

She told me then, hesitating no longer, the unbelievable story—unbelievable by every modern standard and from every scientific point of view, explaining why she'd prevaricated in the first instance about her uncle. It wasn't, after all, quite what you'd call by so harsh a name as lying.

She told me—as she had on the steamer—how she'd gone abroad to hunt new psychics for her seances and the circle meeting at her house, of which she was a sort of priestess, and how she had thus come in contact with the Duval girl. This girl had a "wonderful gift of prophecy," and at a private sitting with her had gone into a trance—and had given out that Mrs. Delario was "one of the chosen"—one of the disciples-elect of the Mystic Cult of the Crystal Sphere, whose headquarters were a lamasary in Tibet, and had then predicted that she was shortly to receive the "mystic sign of initiation" and a gift—conveyed through space by spirit influences—of seven blood-red gems, which she was at liberty to dispose of and convert into cash if she desired—the sacred masters not dealing in lucre but only its sublimated equivalents—and apply to her personal needs and the furtherance of her work for spiritualism.

On being pressed by Mrs. Delario to tell more—name the time and place of the gift—the girl had declared that the stones would be in a small oblong box which Mrs. Delario would "discover among her things when the time came," and that she would "receive them suddenly—secretly—without mortal knowledge of how they got there"—and they would probably be given to her in Paris. Beyond this the girl was unable to go.

Lesson 5 November 2 Fourth Quarter SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Temperance Lesson, (World's Temperance Sunday.)

Jer. 35:1-8, 12-14, 18, 19.

GOLDEN TEXT—Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.—1 Cor. 10:31.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What alcohol does.—Prov. 23:32.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The clean strong life.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Our personal responsibility for temperance reform.

I. The Rechabites Tested (vv. 1-5).

In the days of Jehoakim the Lord charged Jeremiah to bring the Rechabites into the house of the Lord and test them regarding the drinking of wine. This he did in a place where the people might behold them, the aim being to teach Israel by example. The father of the Rechabites had given command that they should not drink wine. Their filial obedience put to shame the Israelites for their lack of obedience. Jonadab, the father of the Rechabites, was only a man, but the one whose commands Israel were disregarding was the Almighty God, their Creator and Savior. It is God's plan that every man be tested. Being a free agent he only can have character through testing. It was for this reason that God placed Adam and Eve in Eden and permitted the devil to test them. While we should be concerned with the removal of temptations from men, we should be more concerned with teaching them their responsibility and showing them how to overcome.

II. The Filial Loyalty of the Rechabites (vv. 6-11).

Though they were out of their own country, in the midst of a foreign people, they refused to drink wine, declaring that they had been true to the instruction of Jonadab all their lives. Obedience to his instructions had been practiced by all men, women and children. It is a fine thing when children keep in memory their fathers and render obedience to their commands.

III. The Loyalty of the Rechabites in Contrast With the Disloyalty of the Israelites (vv. 12-16).

1. The appeal (vv. 13, 14). He made the appeal on the basis of the filial loyalty of the Rechabites. He reminded them that the Rechabites were obedient, though their father was dead long ago. He also reminded them that he had spoken to them in person, rising up early to do so.

2. The ministry of the prophets (vv. 15, 16). When the people failed to render obedience to God he sent to them the prophets, who plead with them to amend their ways by turning away from their idols. Matthew Henry indicates the points of contrast somewhat as follows: (1) The Rechabites were obedient to one who was but a man; the Jews disobeyed the infinite and eternal God. (2) Jonadab was dead long since and could not know of their disloyalty or correct them from it. God is all-wise and lives forever and will punish for disobedience. (3) The Rechabites were never put in mind of their obligations, but God sent his prophets who rose up early to remind them. (4) Jonadab left the charge, but no estate to bear the charge; but God gave the people a goodly land and blessed them in it. (5) God never tied up his people to any hard task like Jonadab did, yet God's people disobeyed him and the Rechabites obeyed their father.

IV. Judgment Upon the Jews for Disobedience (v. 17).

God declared that he would bring judgment upon them according to what he had said. Judgment is determined upon those who disobey and rebel against God.

V. Reward of the Rechabites for Their Loyalty (vv. 18, 19).

Because they had been true to the commands of Jonadab they should have continued representation before God. God has such regard for filial obedience that he lets no act go unrewarded.

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER FROM CATARRH

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing difficult breathing and other discomforts. Real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface.

To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood.

Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which acts on the catarrh germs in the blood.

If you wish medical advice as to the treatment of your own individual case, write to Chief Medical Adviser, 42 Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

board, however, cut this to sixty-five cents, the reduction being made in the general fund levy. The council asked for a rate of fifty-seven cents for this fund, but it was reduced to fifty-four cents. The council estimated that the fifty per cent, reduction in the general fund levy would produce slightly more revenue than this year as the appraised value of city property for 1920 was about $500,000 more than double that for 1919. The former appraised value was $3,465,860 while the new appraisement is $7,432,240. From the general fund comes the money to defray the expenses of water, light, street work, salaries of officials, etc.

City officials believe that with the receipt of the November installment of taxes enough money will be paid over to the city treasurer to meet all of the outstanding bills and the floating indebtedness for the present year. Under the law the city is not permitted to borrow money which cannot be paid back during the year when the indebtedness was incurred. The exception to this rule, of course, is when bonds are issued for permanent improvements.

The bonded indebtedness of the city at the present time is $21,000. Of this amount $15,000 is for the city building and the first of these bonds do not mature until 1921.

There are $4,000 of street intersection bonds outstanding, which are payable at the rate of $2,000 a year. There are also outstanding $2,000 of refunding funds which will be paid in full on July 1, 1921. In addition to these there is the new issue of $10,000 to pay for the post lighting system. However, the first of these do not mature until July 1, 1922, just one year after the last of the refunding bonds are paid.

With the city free of current indebtedness, the officials are of the opinion that the expenses in 1920 will not be much greater, if any, than they were this year, although they realize that expenditures will have to be closely watched during the next twelve months to prevent a deficit from being incurred.

BIG TIME FOR LEGION MEMBERS ON NOVEMBER 11

Committee Appointed to Make Plans For Celebration Are Arranging for Entertainment and Supper.

A big time is being planned for members of Seymour Post No. 89, of the American Legion to be held on the evening of November 11 in celebration of Armistice day. Members of the committee appointed to arrange for the celebration have made arrangements to have a supper and are arranging for an entertainment.

The place for holding the spread has not been definitely decided but it will be in one of the largest halls in the city. A jazz band has been employed to furnish music during the banquet and Miss Adelaide Gasaway, O. H. Holder and N. R. Martin have consented to sing.

The committee has several other features planned for the entertainment. Soldiers who desire to join the Legion are requested to notify Carl Switzer, secretary or any member. Those joining before November 11 will be counted as charter members. The entertainment committee is composed of Eli Shapero, Stanley Switzer and Riley Whitman.
